The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-4, 6-9, 20-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Specifically, the claims state that membrane surrounds the electrochemically active surface and the nub. This implies that the membrane covers the surface on all sides. However, examination of the figures reveals that the membrane, element 24, only surrounds the active surface and nub on three sides, as it ends at coil 12. Accordingly, the membrane does not surround the surface and nub. Since this limitation was added via amendment, it constitutes new matter.

No art is being applied to the claims, as none of the art shows an membrane containing an enzyme, where the membrane surrounds an electrochemically active surface and a dielectric nub.
